The game plan

The current policy arrived late and it changed the job completely. This is no longer "here are three quotes" — it is "you are paying R151,685.30 and every market we approached came back cheaper." That is a strong opening. Your credibility, though, comes from the two things you found that nobody else read.

RUN THE MEETING IN THIS ORDER

- 1 Open with the number, then take it back. "Santam came in at R116,783 against your R151,685. Before you get excited, I checked it against your own schedule and they've dropped a zero on Robertville. The real number is about R120,000." You just gave away R3,000 a month of your own headline to be straight with them. That is the whole relationship.
- 2 Then the work-away exclusion. This is the finding. Read the clause out loud, then ask where their last ten funerals actually took place.
- 3 Then passenger liability. Sixteen Vito buses, R2,500,000, and it has been that way at Old Mutual all along. Not a regression — a question nobody put to them.
- 4 Then what nothing covers — deterioration of stock above all. They refrigerate bodies and their own schedule excludes deterioration after grid interruption.
- 5 Close on timing. Anniversary is 3 September — nine days. Corrections have to be in this week or it rolls for another year.

THE LINE THAT OPENS THE FILE

"Where was your last funeral held?"

Whatever they answer — a church, a cemetery, a family home — their public liability does not cover it. Their own schedule says so. That one exchange is worth more than the R35,000.

💰 KNOW WHAT YOU ARE UP AGAINST

The FAIS disclosure on page 4 of their schedule shows Mellins Insure Brokerage earns R17,599.12 a month — R211,189 a year — on this account. They will not let it go quietly. Expect a same-day counter-quote from Old Mutual once the client asks questions. Your defence is the work-away exclusion: Mellins sold them that wording and never mentioned it.

 THE BRYTE QUOTE IS WRONG TWICE — DO NOT QUOTE THEIR NUMBER

Bryte prints R136,128.65. True figure R135,638.93. Two faults pulling opposite ways:

- The Sasria block divides by ten, not twelve (R29,382.73/yr shown as R2,938.27/mo; it is R2,448.56). Identical error to the Lomaen Medical quotes — this is systemic in their spreadsheet.
- The annual column carries one premises of glass instead of five — R12,121.90 against a true R56,201.50, under-counting by R44,079.60.

Their broker fee is still "to be advised", so it climbs again. This is what moved Bryte from second to third.

 HOW EACH COLUMN WAS PROVED

Current: 11 sections sum to R151,685.30 exactly.

Santam: 10 sections sum to R116,783.28 exactly.

A&G: motor R110,208.95 + Sasria R2,000.74 + fee R75 = R112,284.69, plus non-motor R22,964.43 (which itself carries a second R75 broker fee — they charge it twice).

Bryte: section monthlies = R133,190.37, their own printed subtotal, + Sasria R2,448.56.

A missing zero and a closed front door

FINDING 1 • SANTAM HAS ROBERTVILLE AT R1,500,000. THE POLICY SAYS R15,000,000.

Ten of the eleven premises match the current schedule to the rand. Only 285 Granville Avenue, Robertville, is different — and the difference is exactly R13,500,000, which is the whole gap between Santam's R13,700,000 and the R27,200,000 that both Bryte and A&G carry. Bryte and A&G tie exactly to the current schedule (R27,200,000 plus R260,000 of escalator clauses = R27,460,000). Santam is the one that is out, and it is a single digit.

WHAT IT DOES TO THE RECOMMENDATION

Buildings cost R2,924.52 at R13.7m. Grossing Robertville to R15m adds roughly R2,900–R3,400/mo at the same rate. Santam lands near R120,000 and is still R31,000+/mo below current.

So the recommendation holds — but the number in the client's head must be R120,000, not R116,783. If the Expo team approves R116,783 and Santam re-issues at R120,000, you spend the next meeting explaining a number you already knew about.

SAY IT LIKE THIS

"Santam came back thirty-five thousand a month cheaper. I don't want you to plan on that, because I checked their schedule against yours and they've got your Robertville building at one and a half million where your own policy says fifteen. That's a missing zero. Once it's fixed you're looking at about R120,000 — still more than thirty thousand a month better than today, and now it's a number that will survive underwriting."

FINDING 2 • THEIR PUBLIC LIABILITY EXCLUDES WORK AWAY — AND A FUNERAL IS WORK AWAY

Printed on the Old Mutual PL section (R5,000,000, claims made, retro 01/09/2025): "The company will not indemnify the insured in respect of liability arising from any work carried out elsewhere than at the premises occupied by the insured." Plus a spread of fire exclusion.

The service is at a church. The burial is at a municipal cemetery. The family is collected from home. A mourner hurt at a graveside, a lowering device that fails, a tent that comes down — none of it is at premises they occupy. Bryte writes "General and Tenants/Workaway R5,000,000" into the limit for R295.83/mo. Santam and A&G are silent — get both to confirm in writing. Same shape as the Lomaen Medical find.

THE RETRO DATE IS ON YOUR SIDE HERE

Current retro is 01/09/2025 — only twelve months of tail. Moving to a policy with retro at inception forfeits one year, not eight or twenty. Disclose it in the Record of Advice, but do not let it become the objection that stalls the deal: one year of tail against closing a hole that swallows every funeral they conduct.

The Naked Truth

Seven things to know before Thursday. Number one will cost you the file if you get it wrong.

1 ► Do not present R116,783.28.

It is not the number they would pay. Robertville is under-insured by R13.5m on that quote and correcting it adds R2,900–R3,400/mo. Present ≈R120,000 and explain why.

SAY "I've already adjusted their number upwards, because I'd rather you approved something that holds."

2 ► Mellins earns R211,189 a year on this account.

R17,599.12/mo of broker commission, disclosed on page 4 of the client's own schedule. They will counter within a day of the client asking questions.

DO Get the work-away point in front of the client BEFORE Mellins gets a chance to re-quote. It is the one thing a price cut does not answer.

3 ► The R15,000,000 has not been re-valued.

It is more than half the property programme and it has carried forward on the schedule. If Robertville is not worth R15m, the whole comparison moves again.

ASK "When last did anyone value Granville Avenue? If it's fifteen million we need a valuation on file; if it isn't, you've been overpaying for years."

4 ► Bryte's own arithmetic is wrong twice.

Sasria divided by ten, and the annual column short by R44,079.60 of glass. Never repeat their printed figure. Their broker fee is also still unquoted.

DO Tell Bryte. Second client running (after Lomaen) where the Sasria ÷10 has shown up — it is a spreadsheet fault, not a typo.

5 ► Passenger liability is R2.5m on ALL FOUR documents.

Sixteen Vito buses carrying mourning families. Same shape as Wes-Kaap Busdiens, where passenger cover decided the entire deal. Nobody has ever put the question to this client.

DO Price R5m and R10m on all three before Thursday. It is worth more to them than the saving.

6 ► Deterioration of stock is nowhere — and their own schedule names it as excluded.

The Electricity Grid Interruption exclusion specifically excludes "deterioration of stock, food or other items". They refrigerate bodies. Load-shedding plus no deterioration cover is live today.

SAY "This is the one I'd want fixed even if you stayed where you are."

7 ► Nine days to the anniversary.

03/09/2026. Santam's correction, the work-away confirmations and the claims history all have to land this week, and the cancellation has to be timed so there is no gap and no double debit.

DO If it cannot be done properly by the 3rd, place on the corrected Santam terms at renewal and put the extensions on straight after — do not rush the wording.

"Before the numbers — where was your last funeral actually held? The church, the cemetery, the family's house? Right. Let me read you one line from the policy you're paying for."

THE OBJECTIONS YOU'LL HIT — AND THE WORDS THAT ANSWER THEM

💬 "Mellins says they can match that price."

- ✓ They probably can — it's their commission, and it's R17,599 a month. But price isn't what I brought you. Your public liability doesn't cover anything that happens away from your premises, and every funeral you conduct happens away from your premises. That's been on your schedule the whole time. Ask them why it was never raised.

💬 "You said R116,000, now you're saying R120,000."

- ✓ I did, and I'm the one who changed it. Santam has your Robertville building at one and a half million where your own policy says fifteen million. If I'd left it alone you'd have signed a number that fell apart at underwriting, and if there'd been a fire you'd have been paid ten cents in the rand. I'd rather lose the headline than sell you that.

💬 "We've never had a liability claim in twenty years."

- ✓ I believe you, and that's exactly why the premium is what it is. But you carry sixteen buses full of families to cemeteries every week. The one you never have is the one that ends the business. Two and a half million doesn't settle a bus accident, and right now the liability section won't answer at the graveside at all.

💬 "Just move it, we'll sort the details later."

- ✓ Not on this one. Anniversary is the 3rd — nine days. I need Santam's corrected building, work-away confirmed in writing, and three years of claims. If those aren't in by then we renew as we are for a month and place it properly. I'm not putting eleven premises on risk against a quote I know is wrong.

"Four things from you: the Robertville value, three years of claims, confirmation of the eleven addresses, and how the X6 and the Harley are used. Give me those this week and I'll come back with one corrected recommendation, work-away confirmed in writing, and passenger liability priced at five and ten million."

📶 THE TELEMATICS LEAD, AND WHY IT LANDS

Only 7 of 61 vehicles carry a tracking warranty on the current policy — and all seven are Cartrack, named on the schedule. You are already the approved supplier on this account. That is 54 units of clean lead, and it is also your credibility line: "you already trust us on the seven the insurer insisted on."
