Your Cover, Compared

Three insurers have quoted your school. We have read all three against your current Santam schedule, section by section. One of them holds the cover that matters on your buses and your liability. The other two do not, and this pack shows exactly where.

HOLLARD

R23,516/mo

cheapest, and the weakest cover by a distance

ONE · RECOMMENDED

R24,093/mo

holds R5m passenger liability on the buses

BRYTE

R29,673/mo

dearest, and no passenger liability at all

COVERED

● Two campuses

Buildings R45.9m

● Three school buses

Electronics R4.8m

● Public liability

Cheapest is not the answer here

Three quotes, all reconciled to the cent. The spread between them is about R6,000 a month. The spread in what they actually cover is far wider than that, and it runs the other way: the cheapest quote has removed the cover a primary school most needs.

OUR RECOMMENDATION: ONE

ONE costs R577 a month more than Hollard and R5,580 less than Bryte. It is the only one of the three that carries R5,000,000 of passenger liability on each of your three buses, which is the cover your current Santam policy already gives you and the single most important line in a school's programme. Page 03 sets out why the other two fail on it.

READ THIS BEFORE YOU LOOK AT THE HOLLARD PRICE

Hollard's liability section carries a schools endorsement that removes cover for child molestation or sexual abuse, wrongful or excessive discipline, and bullying or harassment, and a separate note excluding pupil-to-pupil liability. Its liability limit is R1,000,000 against R20,000,000 at the other two. We cannot recommend it for a school at any price, and we would not be doing our job if we presented it as simply the cheapest option.

ONE THING WE STILL DO NOT HAVE

Your current Santam schedule reached us with the premium figures removed. We can therefore tell you how these three compare with each other and how their cover compares with yours, but not yet whether any of them saves you money. If you are willing to share the current premium we will close that gap in a day. If you would rather not, that is entirely your call and the cover comparison in this pack stands on its own.

Who is covered if a bus is in an accident

You run a 2013 Iveco 50C15V15 midibus and two Toyota Quantum 14-seaters. They carry other people's children. Passenger liability is what responds when a passenger is injured, and it is the line on which these three quotes separate most sharply.

| ON EACH BUS                                                                                       | SANTAM (YOUR POLICY TODAY) | ONE        | BRYTE              | HOLLARD          |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------|------------|--------------------|------------------|
| Passenger liabilityInjury to the children and staff being carried.                     | R5,000,000                 | R5,000,000 | Not covered | Not shown |
| Unauthorised passenger liability                                                           | R250,000                   | Included   | R2,500,000         | Not taken        |
| Third party liability                                                                      | R5,000,000                 | R5,000,000 | R5,000,000         | R2,500,000       |
| Contingent liabilityResponds when someone drives their own vehicle on school business. | R3,000,000                 | Included   | .                  | .                |

WHAT THIS MEANS IN PRACTICE

Bryte prints "Passenger liability: No" against all eleven items on its schedule, including both Quantums and the Iveco. Hollard's motor section does not carry a passenger liability extension at all, and its third party limit is half of what you have today. On a vehicle taking your pupils to a sports fixture, that is the difference between a claim being paid and the school carrying it.

BEING STRAIGHT WITH YOU ABOUT ONE

ONE's R5,000,000 of passenger liability is a match of what Santam already gives you, not an improvement on it. We are not going to tell you it is an upgrade. What it is, is the only one of the three quotes that holds the line you already have, while the other two quietly drop it.

SOMETHING TO CORRECT ON THE BRYTE SCHEDULE

Bryte has your 2008 Quantum CH07GJZN recorded as a 10-seater. Your Santam schedule says 14 seats. It has also recorded your Venter Traveller trailer as a 2007 Force Traveller minibus, and dated another trailer 1925. Seat count drives passenger liability rating, so this is not a typing matter.

What a school actually gets sued for

A primary school's liability exposure is not slips and falls. It is what happens between children, and between adults and children. Your current policy recognises that. Only one of these three quotes comes close.

| LIABILITY                                                                                                         | SANTAM (TODAY)       | ONE         | BRYTE       | HOLLARD           |

THE HOLLARD SCHOOLS ENDORSEMENT, IN FULL

Endorsement LIA_011 states that the insurer shall not indemnify the school for any claim arising out of child molestation or sexual abuse of any kind, wrongful or excessive discipline of any kind, or bullying or harassment of any kind. A separate memo adds that pupil-to-pupil liability is excluded. Hollard also quotes a R17,500,000 umbrella, but its own schedule requires an underlying limit of R2,500,000 for that umbrella to attach, and the underlying limit it has quoted is R1,000,000.

WHAT WE ARE ASKING ONE FOR ON YOUR BEHALF

Teacher liability, pupil liability and the R1,000,000 professional indemnity for teachers and scholars are on your current policy and on none of the three quotes. We have gone back to ONE to have them priced and added, along with a retroactive date that matches your existing cover, before you are asked to decide anything.

Found while reading your schedule

Some of what we found is not about moving insurer at all. It is about gaps that have been sitting in your programme for years, and one piece of cover you are about to lose without anybody mentioning it.

1 About ten million rand of automatic uplift is not in any quote

Your Santam policy carries escalation and inflation as scheduled amounts: R4,043,668 and R4,674,761 on the Waterberry Wood buildings, R587,528 and R646,281 on Wag 'n Bietjie. That is R9,952,238 that rises with rebuilding costs. None of the three quotes carries an escalation or inflation line. We are asking all three to price it.

2 There is no theft, fidelity or business interruption cover anywhere

Not on your current policy, and not on any of the three quotes. Fidelity is the one we would push. A school collects fees, runs a tuck shop and holds fundraisers, and employee dishonesty is the characteristic loss of the trade. Nobody has ever put it in front of you.

3 Glass at R10,000 and accidental damage at R20,000

These are on your current policy, so they are long-standing rather than something a quote got wrong. R10,000 would not reglaze one classroom block, and R20,000 of accidental damage sits against a property programme of more than fifty million. Both are inexpensive to lift.

4 Two conditions that could cost you a claim

ONE's liability cover is conditional on disclaimer notice boards being displayed at the entrances. Your electronic equipment cover, on every quote, carries a reduced excess only if the main distribution board has certified SANS 10142-1 surge protection. Both are an afternoon's work and both are worth confirming.

ONE FOR YOUR GOVERNING BODY

Your Santam schedule records that Government is a co-insurer for the balance of the Waterberry Wood buildings. None of the three quotes reflects that arrangement. Before you move, we want it stated on the new schedule, so that the split of who insures what is not left to be argued after a fire.

What happens from here

1 We go back to ONE with five items

Teacher and pupil liability, professional indemnity for teachers and scholars, a retroactive date matching your current cover, escalation and inflation, and all three entities named as insured.

2 You decide about the current premium

Share it and we complete the price comparison. Withhold it and we proceed on cover alone. Either is fine, and neither changes what we have found.

3 We reissue this pack with the corrected ONE quote

Nothing is signed until the five items above are on the schedule in writing rather than promised in an email.

4 Timing

Your anniversary is 1 April 2027, so there is no pressure to rush. Note that ONE's quote currently shows no inception date and a renewal of 1 August 2027, which we are having corrected.

IN SHORT

ONE at R24,093.16 a month, once the five items are added. Hollard is R577 cheaper and we would not place a school on it. Bryte is R5,580 dearer and has no passenger liability on your buses.
