For Jean Swanepoel. Two comparisons: RTU against AC&E on the e-hailing fleet, Natsure against Western on the dealership. Both quotes are cheaper. AC&E has never been told the cars do Uber, and Western excludes test drives on a car dealer.

⚠ AC&E'S "SASRIA MOTOR R25,332.50" IS MISLABELLED

It is the Special Risks section: excess waiver R195 × 128 = R24,960 + Sasria R372.50 (quote p19, p20). So the waiver is inside R165,093.16. Without it AC&E is R140,133.16. And 125 × R2.62 is R327.50, not R372.50 (R45 slip). The client will read "Sasria R25k" against RTU's R2.2k and think we missed something: explain it before they ask.

WHERE THE FLEET SAVING ACTUALLY COMES FROM

AC&E values the 126 matched cars R3,195,441 lower (R25.2m against about R28.4m). RTU rates every car at a flat 7.00%; AC&E 5.60% plus a 10% broker fee (6.16% effective). At RTU's values AC&E is only about R4,100 a month cheaper. RTU's 49 "agreed value" cars buy nothing: its own clause pays the lesser of retail and sum insured. So the lower values are mostly honest, but check JW44BLGP (an X25 coded as a D20, about R112,000 short).

OUR PAY (ROA)	COMMISSION	BROKER FEE	TOTAL
RTU today p2 R22,105.03, p111 R22,711.07	22,105.03	none	22,105.03
AC&E p2 R15,935.83, p21 R15,008.47	15,935.83	11,965.30	27,901.13
Natsure today	17,036.91	11,143.33	28,180.24
Western fee 15% incl. the assist line	14,686.33	14,973.51	29,659.84

Both quotes carry a fee the current RTU policy does not. Disclose all four on the Record of Advice. RTU's profit share (p108: 50% of profit after claims and 25% costs, quarterly interim, losses carried forward; elsewhere 45% if loss ratio below 60%) is money the client may forfeit by leaving mid-term. Get the position from RTUSA first.

PLAY 02 · THE GATE ON THE FLEET

PLAY 02

AC&E has quoted a rental fleet. These cars do Uber.

	RTU (RENASA, E-HAILING PRODUCT)	AC&E (NEW NATIONAL)
What the insurer was told	"Transportation"; Uber/Taxify inspection certificate Yes on all 136; more than one operator	"Rent-to-own and short and long term rentals"; class "Private & Business"
E-hailing, Uber, Bolt, fare	fare-paying wording in the PrDP clause and excess table	not mentioned once in 32 pages; "minibuses (excluding taxis)"; Assist excludes taxicabs
Passenger liability	no limit printed; only an RSA-courts clause	R2,500,000, fare-paying not stated
Renter keeps the car	no cover if "rented or hired out to a third party and no longer under the control of the insured or a driver employed by the insured"; use "excluding hiring-out" (p107)	absconding clause: false pretences, conversion, fraudulent hiring, failure to return, absconding; theft needs forcible entry
Drivers	one placeholder principal driver on all 136, "Self Employed"	none named
Rent-to-own terms	"not applicable to this cover" (p108)	none

⚠ WHY THIS DECIDES IT

Non-disclosure can void the policy or a claim (AC&E Annexure A, p3). A passenger injured on a Bolt trip in a car rated "private and business" is exactly the claim that gets repudiated. Same shape as Wes-Kaap and Gateway, where the passenger cover was not what it looked like. No AC&E price goes to the client as firm until AC&E has it in writing.

AND RTU IS NOT CLEAN EITHER

The drivers rent from SAI; they are not employees. RTU's own clause takes away cover when the car is rented out and not in the control of the insured or "a driver employed by the insured". Ask RTUSA in writing whether that has ever been applied to this client and how they read it. If neither insurer covers a renter who disappears with a car, it goes in the Record of Advice. The answer is the tracker's recovery service, which is our product.

IN THE ROOM

"Julle huidige polis is gebou vir Uber, en dis reg so. Die nuwe quote is R20,000 'n maand goedkoper op dieselfde karre, maar hulle weet nog nie die karre ry Uber nie. Ons laat hulle dit eers op skrif bevestig, anders koop julle 'n goedkoper polis wat nie gaan betaal nie."

One Raptor (MH47FKGP VIN) is on the stock list AND motor item 11. 14 stock VINs (R2.55m) are e-hailing cars on RTU. 9 stock cars exceed the R500k traders own-damage limit on both (R10.3m). Get the stock register, split dealer stock from rentals.

RENTAL CARS AND THE WESTERN EXCLUSION

"No rent-to-own vehicles are covered on this policy" is policy-wide (p1). Natsure motor carries Kwid HH90YWGP, Triber (on Natsure and Western as LM87XYGP, which is the Kiger's reg; the Triber is LM87XVGP and is on RTU), Polo JF32CCGP and Vivo CAA668618 (added 17 Oct). The last three are on neither fleet document. Every rental car onto the fleet policy before Natsure is cancelled.

TRACKING AND SMALLER POINTS

No tracker recorded on any of the 31 units on either side: 22 vehicles over R350k (R23.3m) have no theft cover today; Western wants two devices on 15 (all the Rangers, Everest, Prado, Fortuner) = about 39 units. Western's tracking penalty contradicts itself (20% excess p19, theft suspended p78). Kundiso Investments dropped; Erf 84 (R29.7m, Nedbank) owner? Reg and VAT "0". 3-year claims record and a survey (fire over R15m) before cover. MD Sasria R3,612.19 fits ÷10: true total about R120,014.

THE RECOMMENDATION

1. Fleet: AC&E, once e-hailing is accepted in writing and re-quoted on the full list. R20,528 a month on the same cars.
2. Profit share first. Get RTU's loss ratio and accrued share before any notice.
3. Dealership: Western, once demo use, passengers, retro dates and the umbrella are fixed. R8,454 a month.
4. Rental cars onto the fleet policy before Natsure is cancelled.
5. Fix the current policies now: LV78HNGP refund, Natsure BAR item 27 at 100% (R1,026.67 a month), stock SI.
6. Trackers: 63 fleet cars and 22 dealer vehicles. Our product, and a condition of cover on both quotes.

💬 "Die nuwe fleet quote is R35,000 'n maand goedkoper, kom ons teken."

✓ "Op dieselfde 126 karre is dit R20,500, want hulle het nege van julle karre uitgelos. En hulle weet nog nie die karre ry Uber nie. Ons kry dit eers op skrif, dan teken ons."

💬 "Waarom is hulle Sasria R25,000 as ons s'n R2,200 is?"

✓ "Dis nie Sasria nie. Dis 'n excess waiver van R195 per kar wat verkeerd gelabel is. Die regte Sasria is R451, minder as wat julle nou betaal."

💬 "Western is goedkoper, maak nie saak oor die test drives nie."

✓ "Julle is 'n dealer. 'n Klant wat 'n test drive vat en 'n ongeluk maak is jou grootste risiko, en Western sluit dit uit. Ons vra hulle om dit terug te sit; as hulle weier, bly ons by Natsure vir die dealership."

💬 "RTU betaal ons 'n profit share."

✓ "Presies. Ons vra RTUSA eers wat opgebou is. As dit meer werd is as die besparing tot by renewal in Maart, wag ons tot dan."
