SAI Group Insurance Review

Your e-hailing fleet policy and your dealership policy, each set against a market quotation. As printed, the two quotations come to R44,249 a month less than you pay today. On the same vehicles and the same cover it is closer to R29,000. Both quotations need answers in writing before you move.

Two policies, two quotations, reconciled to the cent

You hold two policies today: an e-hailing fleet policy with Renasa through RTUSA, and a car rental and dealership policy with Compass through Natsure. Each quotation below replaces one of them. Every figure adds up to the cent on the documents themselves.

⚠ WHY THE FLEET FIGURE DROPS FROM R35,796 TO R20,528

Your Renasa policy lists 136 items. One Polo Vivo, LV78HNGP, is on it twice (since 3 October, R1,292.68 a month), so you insure 135 cars. AC&E has quoted 128. Nine of your cars are not on the quotation, among them the 2026 Ranger NB84XMGP, the Jetour and six Polos, and two on the quotation are not on your policy (Picanto FV09BCGP, Polo HN74SNGP). Compared on the 126 cars on both documents, AC&E is R20,528.45 a month cheaper. On the full fleet we estimate about R22,100.

TWO THINGS TO READ INTO THE AC&E PRICE

The line printed as "SASRIA Motor R25,332.50" is not Sasria: it is an excess waiver at R195 a car (R24,960) plus R372.50 of Sasria. So the waiver is already inside R165,093.16. And AC&E values the same cars R3.2 million lower than your current policy. Both insurers pay the lesser of retail value and the sum insured on a write-off, so most of those higher values on Renasa do not pay out more. At Renasa's values, AC&E would be only about R4,100 a month cheaper.

PART ONE · THE E-HAILING FLEET

Same cars, what changes in the cover

Renasa writes your fleet on its e-hailing product through RTUSA. AC&E has quoted a commercial motor policy through New National Assurance. Here is the cover line by line.

	RENASA / RTUSA TODAY	AC&E / NEW NATIONAL
Vehicles matched by registration and VIN	135 cars (136 items, one twice)	128 cars, 126 of them yours

Sasria	R2,199.58, rated as goods vehicles	R450.87

⚠ BEFORE AC&E CAN BE COMPARED PROPERLY

Ask for the quotation on the full current fleet: add HM41NLGP, JB70NTGP, HR27LFGP, LV78FCGP, HN69NLGP, BM23NYZN, JF31ZXGP, MF21NYGP and NB84XMGP, and confirm FV09BCGP and HN74SNGP. Also correct JW44BLGP, which AC&E lists as a BAIC D20 at R127,700; your policy and its VIN say BAIC X25, about R240,000. Uncorrected, that car is under-insured by about R112,000.

PART ONE · THE QUESTION THAT DECIDES THE FLEET

Is a car covered while it is on an Uber or Bolt trip?

Your cars carry fare-paying passengers every day, driven by people who rent them from you. That is what any fleet policy you hold has to answer for first.

RENASA TODAY: BUILT FOR E-HAILING

Your policy is Renasa's e-hailing product. Every one of the 136 items records an Uber or Bolt inspection certificate and registration with more than one operator. That is the right starting point. Two things still need confirming in writing: the passenger and third party limits, which are not printed anywhere on the schedule, and how the clause excluding cover "if the vehicle is rented or hired out to a third party and is no longer under the control of the insured or a driver employed by the insured" applies to drivers who rent from you.

⚠ AC&E AS QUOTED: E-HAILING IS NOT MENTIONED

The AC&E quotation describes your business as "Rent-to-own and also short term and long term vehicle rentals" and rates every car for "Private & Business" use. Its 32 pages never mention e-hailing, Uber, Bolt or fare-paying passengers, and its vehicle definition reads "minibuses (excluding taxis)". Undisclosed use can void a policy or a claim. Until AC&E confirms in writing that the cars are covered on e-hailing trips, and that its R2,500,000 passenger liability covers fare-paying passengers, its price is not comparable with your current policy.

⚠ A DRIVER WHO DOES NOT BRING THE CAR BACK

AC&E's absconding clause gives no theft cover where a car is "hired through false pretences", where "conversion occurs", "failure to return leased vehicle occurs" or "absconding with the vehicle occurs", and theft must involve forcible and violent entry. Renasa's hiring-out wording has a similar effect. On both policies, a renter who keeps a car is not an insured theft. Your protection there is the tracking unit and its recovery service.

TRACKING: A CONDITION OF THEFT COVER ON BOTH

Renasa requires a trip-log tracking unit on every car over R80,000, or theft and accident cover fall away. AC&E requires an early-warning tracker with a recovery contract on 63 cars (all 57 Polos, the NP200 and five cars over R399,999) and a passive tracker on 8 more, or there is no theft or hijack cover on that car. Every car on your schedule shows "OwnTracker". We will confirm with AC&E whether it qualifies.

AC&E TRACKING RULE	CARS	WITHOUT IT
Every VW Polo and Polo Vivo over R100,000 early warning with recovery, any value	57	no theft or hijack cover
Over R399,999, plus the Nissan NP200 early warning with recovery	6	no theft or hijack cover
R300,000 to R399,999 passive tracking unit	8	no theft or hijack cover
Under R300,000 VESA level 3 or 4 immobiliser	57	theft cover at risk
Fleet quoted	128	R13.9 million needs early warning

PART TWO · THE DEALERSHIP, PREMISES AND YOUR OWN VEHICLES

Western against Natsure, section by section

The same buildings, the same 31 vehicles and trailers, the same R12.1 million of gross profit and the same office equipment. The R8,454 a month comes from the property and dealer sections. On motor, Western is R876 a month dearer.

> ONE FIGURE TO HAVE CONFIRMED
> Western prints only monthly Sasria. Its material-damage Sasria of R3,612.19 fits the annual premium divided by ten rather than twelve, an error we have found on other quotations from the same system. If so, the true total is about R120,014. We have asked for the annual figures.

PART TWO · WHAT A DEALERSHIP NEEDS

Western is cheaper and better on liability. It is weaker where a dealer is exposed.

	NATSURE TODAY	WESTERN
Test drives and demo use motor traders external	covered, incl. vehicles lent to customers	"Demo use: excluded"
Passengers in stock vehicles	R2,500,000	excluded
Work away from premises motor traders internal	included	excluded
Passengers in your own vehicles	R5,000,000	R2,500,000
Ranger MS70HNGP, R755,000	comprehensive	third party, fire and theft only
Liability retro dates	employers' 01/03/2024; policy since 05/04/2024	both reset to 01/06/2026
R25m umbrella	none	new, but it needs R2.5m of products and employers' liability beneath it, and the quotation has R0 and R2m
Rental and rent-to-own cars	"Car Rental Dealership"	"No rent-to-own vehicles are covered on this policy"
Insured parties	SAI Group and Kundiso Investments	SAI Group only
Third party on traders	R2,500,000	R5,000,000

⚠ THE RENTAL CARS MUST MOVE FIRST

Western covers dealer stock only. Four rental-type cars sit on the motor section today (Kwid HH90YWGP, Triber, Polo JF32CCGP, Polo Vivo CAA668618) and 14 cars on the stock list are also on your e-hailing fleet. If any car that is rented out stays on this policy after a move, it is uninsured. Every rental car has to be on the fleet policy before Natsure is cancelled.

TWO QUESTIONS FOR YOU

(1) Who owns the Allen Grove building (R29.7 million, Nedbank noted)? If it is Kundiso Investments, Western must name Kundiso. (2) Is the building at 6 Smuts Drive R2,354,000 (Natsure) or R2,345,000 (Western)?

OUR RECOMMENDATION

Both quotations are worth pursuing. Neither is ready to sign.

THE FLEET: AC&E, ONCE E-HAILING IS ACCEPTED IN WRITING

On the same 126 cars AC&E is R20,528 a month cheaper and includes an excess waiver. We recommend moving only once AC&E confirms in writing that the cars are covered on Uber and Bolt trips with passenger liability for fare-paying passengers, re-quotes the full current fleet, and confirms which trackers qualify. Before cancelling, we will also check the profit share Renasa owes you, so nothing accrued is forfeited.

THE DEALERSHIP: WESTERN, ONCE FOUR THINGS ARE RESTORED

Western saves R8,454 a month and lifts public liability to R2.5 million. We recommend it once it (1) covers test drives and demo use and passengers in stock vehicles, (2) keeps your retro dates and adds products liability so the umbrella can attach, (3) returns the Ranger MS70HNGP to comprehensive, and (4) names Kundiso Investments if needed. The rental cars move to the fleet policy first.

TO FIX ON YOUR CURRENT POLICIES WHATEVER YOU DECIDE	WHY
Renasa: LV78HNGP insured twice	R1,292.68 a month since 3 October; refund due
Natsure: one phone rated at 100% a year	All risks item 27 (R14,000) costs R1,166.67 a month; overcharge R1,026.67 a month
Natsure: stock list R30.3m, sum insured R26.8m	R3.5 million short with no declaration clause, so average applies to a stock claim
Natsure: Raptor MH47FKGP twice	on the stock list and as motor item 11
Natsure: 22 vehicles over R350,000, no tracker recorded	R23.3 million of vehicles without theft or hijack cover today

WHAT WE NEED FROM YOU

The current stock register, split into dealer stock and rental cars; your claims record for the last three years (Western needs it in writing before cover starts); and confirmation of which tracking unit is fitted to the fleet. The Western quotation is valid to 20 November 2026.

Replacing a policy: any reduction in cover listed in this review will be recorded in your Record of Advice before you decide. Figures are taken from Renasa schedule RTUEF000044 v133 (13 Oct 2026), AC&E quotation COMM114750 (13 Oct 2026), Natsure schedule COM176916 v482 (20 Oct 2026) and Western quotation 48445131 (21 Oct 2026).
