The cheapest number is not the best policy

You pay R131,719.79 a month to Santam on policy 10000064816. Two markets have quoted: Petrosure, for Old Mutual Insure, at R123,300.02, and MiWay at R129,095.75. Both are cheaper than your current programme. We are recommending you stay where you are, and the next five pages set out exactly why — because in each case the saving is bought with cover you actually use.

RECOMMENDATION — STAY AT SANTAM, FOR NOW

Petrosure made real progress: agreed value confirmed on your specialist tankers, your 2021 retroactive date held, the under-insured vehicle corrected. But third party on your ten truck-tractors cannot exceed R5 million against Santam's R10 million, and the cargo excess cannot be reduced at all — R300,000 on a hijacked load against your R20,000.

MiWay is a smaller policy wearing a smaller price. See the next page.

SOMETHING YOU SHOULD KNOW EITHER WAY

None of the three covers pollution. Your Santam schedule reads "environmental impairment liability — not included" against every vehicle, Petrosure have confirmed they do not offer it, and MiWay's quotation excludes environmental transport liability. You move diesel for a living. Page 06.

A smaller price, because it is a smaller policy

MiWay comes in R2,624.04 a month below what you pay now. Taken apart, none of that is a re-rating of your risk. It is three pieces of your programme being removed.

▲ R4,838,555 OF YOUR FLEET IS NOT ON THE QUOTATION AT ALL

MiWay has quoted 10 vehicles and 10 trailers — twenty units. Your policy carries twenty-seven. The following are not priced anywhere on it:
TBA 2026 Trailer & Tanker Technology tanker R2,415,000 · KM75WBGP Mercedes S350 R700,000 · LD70ZPGP Fortuner R600,200 · LP98BKGP GWM P-Series R511,905 · KS34GCGP Mahindra R226,200 · FVR386EC and FVR390EC Paramount trailers R192,625 each
Total unquoted: R4,838,555 — that is all four of your light vehicles, both Paramount trailers, and the new tanker awaiting registration. Until MiWay prices the whole fleet the two figures are not comparable.

🚚 AND ONE VEHICLE THAT IS ON THE QUOTE, INSURED FOR R885,000 TOO LITTLE

LW22DGGP, your 2024 Trailer & Tanker Technology tanker, is R2,400,000 on your Santam schedule and R1,515,000 on the MiWay quotation. Because it appears on the quote it reads as covered. On a total loss the average clause would apply and settle it at roughly 63 cents in the rand — about R885,000 short. This is the kind of thing that is only ever found by reading the two schedules against each other, and we would rather find it now.

✅ WHERE THE MIWAY QUOTATION IS GENUINELY USEFUL

It is the only quotation in front of you that has been priced with your claims record on the table. It states your losses on its face — two losses, R6,500,000 — and still lands R5,795.73 a month above Petrosure, whose quotation records your loss history as "to be advised".
That tells us something important: Petrosure's figure is likely to rise once they rate your actual record. It is the clearest evidence yet that R123,300.02 is not a firm price, and we have put it to them in exactly those terms.

TWO THINGS ON THE MIWAY PAPERWORK WE HAVE ASKED THEM TO CORRECT

Your losses are recorded as "vehicle accidents", both in December 2025. They were two hijackings, a year apart — a different risk, and it must be described correctly before that price means anything. The proposal also records ten vehicles in the last three years (you run twenty-seven), your previous insurer as "undisclosed", and both day and night parking as "variable".

What answers when your truck hurts someone

Third party liability is what pays when one of your vehicles injures a person or damages someone else's property. On a loaded fuel tanker it is the most important number in the policy. Santam sets it by vehicle class. Both markets cap at R5,000,000 — Petrosure have confirmed that is their ceiling and cannot be exceeded, and MiWay quotes R5,000,000 on the fleet and only R1,000,000 on your trailers.

VEHICLE CLASS	UNITS	SANTAM	PETROSURE	THEIR BEST	MIWAY	GAP
Truck-tractors The horses: Iveco, FAW, Shacman.	10	R10,000,000	R2,500,000	R5,000,000	R5,000,000	-50%
Tankers & heavy trailers GRW, Afrit, Trailer & Tanker Technology, Tank Clinic.	13	R5,000,000	R2,500,000	R5,000,000	R1,000,000	MIWAY -80%
Light vehicles Mahindra, Fortuner, GWM, Mercedes.	4	R2,500,000	R2,500,000	R2,500,000	not quoted	SAME
Fleet sum insured	27	R31,311,815	R31,311,815	MATCHED	20 units	.

WHY THIS IS THE ONE WE WILL NOT LET THROUGH

A truck-tractor pulling a full four-compartment diesel tanker is the largest thing you put on a national road. Today it carries R10 million of third party cover. Petrosure's maximum is R5 million, and that is their ceiling, not their opening position. A single serious accident — several vehicles, injuries, a fire — passes R5 million, and everything above it comes out of the business. We have asked them to at least lift the quotation to their R5 million and price it, so you can see the whole picture.

MiWay hits the same ceiling, and goes further down: its trailers carry only R1,000,000 of third party cover against the R5,000,000 you hold today. Neither market can replace the R10 million on your truck-tractors. That single line is the reason this renewal stays where it is.

TWO THINGS WE ASKED FOR, AND GOT

The under-insured vehicle is fixed. MG45VLGP (2025 Shacman X3000 480) was quoted at R1,516,105 against your R1,816,105. It now reads R1,816,105 and the fleet totals match to the rand.

Agreed value is confirmed. Petrosure has confirmed in writing that your specialist units — the GRW, Afrit and Trailer & Tanker Technology tankers — can be written on Agreed Value, subject to accepting the values at inception. The four light vehicles stay on retail, exactly as they are at Santam today.

AND YOUR LIABILITY HISTORY IS PROTECTED

Your public liability is written on a claims made basis with a retroactive date of 20 August 2021. Petrosure has confirmed that date will be carried across unchanged, subject to proof of uninterrupted cover. That protects five years of your past work — it was the single biggest technical risk in a move like this, and it is closed.

The same load limit, a very different excess

All three cover roughly the same load. Read only that line and the sections look alike — yet both quotations are cheaper on cargo. The difference is not cover. It is the part you pay when the load is gone. We asked Petrosure for an excess reducer. The answer was that they are unable to offer one.

WHY THIS OUTWEIGHS THE SAVING, ON YOUR RECORD SPECIFICALLY

You have had two trailers hijacked with their loads in the last two years. That is the loss this business actually has — and it is precisely the excess Petrosure has said it cannot reduce. One hijack would cost you R280,000 more on the load alone, against a saving of R101,037 a year. A single incident takes back almost three years of the saving, and you have had two in two.

MiWay's R67,500 is far better than Petrosure's R300,000 — but it is still R47,500 worse than what you have, and MiWay does not quote the trailers that were actually taken.

HOW SANTAM GETS TO R20,000

Santam's standard cargo excess is also a percentage — but your policy carries two excess reducers, bought deliberately, which bring the first amount payable down to a flat R20,000 for both accident damage and hijacking. That is a purchase somebody made on your behalf and it is the single most valuable thing in your current programme.

ONE THING WE CAN CLOSE FOR YOU

Petrosure have asked for your annual carry figure — the total value of goods you move in a year. Your Santam schedule does not state one either, so it has to come from you. Without it the cargo section is rated on an assumption and would be re-rated after inception. We would rather have the real number now.

Nothing here pays to clean up a spill

This is not a comparison point. It is true of the policy you have now and of the one you were offered, and it is the single largest uninsured exposure we can see in your business.

WHAT THE DOCUMENTS ACTUALLY SAY

- Santam. Your schedule reads "Environmental impairment liability — not included" against every one of the 27 vehicles.
- Petrosure. No environmental or pollution section anywhere in the quotation. It carries "forecourt negligence" — which is fuel dispensed at a filling station, not fuel on a road.
- MiWay. "Environmental transport liability — excluded" on the fleet, and the goods section adds that there is no cover for environmental liability unless it is selected on the vehicle section. It is not selected.

WHAT THAT MEANS

If one of your tankers rolls and diesel reaches soil, a storm-water drain or a water course, the clean-up, the rehabilitation, the monitoring and the regulator's costs are yours. Those costs are not proportional to the load — a single incident at the wrong place can run to many times the value of the vehicle.

WHAT WE ARE DOING ABOUT IT

- ✓ We asked Petrosure to quote it. They have confirmed they do not offer environmental impairment or pollution liability — and pointed us to Envirosure, a specialist market.
- ✓ We are asking Santam the same question on your existing policy, so you are not waiting on any re-quote to close a gap you have today.
- ✓ We are taking it to Envirosure as a standalone placement. That is normal for fuel hauliers and it is a small premium against the exposure.

OUR VIEW

Of everything in this review, this is the item we would fix first — ahead of the premium, ahead of the re-quote. It is the only exposure here capable of ending the business rather than costing it money.

TWO SMALLER ONES, WHILE WE ARE HERE

Credit shortfall is on none of the three — Petrosure have confirmed they do not offer it and MiWay excludes it — and Investec Bank and Redtree Capital interests are noted on your fleet. Passenger liability is excluded on MiWay.

Roadside assistance: Petrosure can only give it below 3.5 tons, so your 23 heavy units get none. Santam includes breakdown towing, towing in and outside the RSA and wreckage removal on all of them. MiWay is the strongest here — towing and recovery R100,000, mechanical breakdown tow R75,000 and side tank spill R250,000.

Two markets, and the same two answers

WHERE THIS STANDS

- 1 Petrosure — closed, and closed properly
Agreed value on your specialist tankers. Retroactive date held at 20 August 2021. MG45VLGP corrected to R1,816,105. Public liability R10m per event, no aggregate. Roadside added on the light vehicles.
- 2 Petrosure — refused, and these decide it
No cargo excess reducer: R300,000 on a hijacked load against your R20,000. Third party capped at R5m against your R10m. No environmental cover. No credit shortfall.
- 3 MiWay — not a comparison yet
Twenty units quoted against your twenty-seven, no public liability section at all, and trailers at R1m of third party cover. We have asked them to price the full fleet and to correct how your losses are described.
- 4 Neither price is firm
Petrosure's quotation still records "loss history: to be advised" and is subject to a satisfactory claims history. MiWay has priced with your record on the table and came in higher. We would rather any change happen before you see it than after.

Stay at Santam

The cargo excess reducer and the R10m third party on your truck-tractors are worth more to this business than either saving, on the loss record you actually have.

IN ONE SENTENCE

Petrosure saves you R8,420 a month but caps third party cover on your truck-tractors at half of what you carry today and leaves you paying R300,000 instead of R20,000 the next time a load is hijacked. MiWay saves you R2,624 a month by not quoting seven of your vehicles and removing your public liability section entirely. On a business that has had two trailers hijacked in two years, neither is a trade we can recommend — which is why we say stay, for now, and why the pollution gap on your existing policy is the thing we would like to close first.

ONE CORRECTION TO MAKE IN YOUR OWN RECORDS

Your Santam policy names seven insured parties — Integral Trading Services, CGR Holdings, Serin South Africa, Fuel Me, Silent Valley Investments, Petrocure, and Investec Bank for their rights and interest. Any replacement policy must name all seven, or those interests are not protected. We have flagged it to both markets.
